

Title: DHL Disaster Response Team Americas

Abstract: This class is designed at the following experience level for this topic – introductory

Following the devastating natural disasters of the past few years, the international community has increased its efforts to improve disaster management in order to establish a global system of disaster preparedness, response and reconstruction. The United Nations and national governments as well as NGOs and the private sector are working together to achieve this goal. Recent experience has shown that the swift distribution of emergency supplies is still a major logistical challenge. Disaster victims are entirely dependent on emergency aid reaching them quickly. This session will explore the logistics of Disaster Response.

Organization: DHL

Website: www.dhl.com

Gilberto Castro, Director for DHL Disaster Response Team for Americas and GARD (Get Airport Ready for Disaster) program with 22 years in the Logistics Sector. Active participation in DRT deployment in countries such as Haiti, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Honduras, Peru, Chile, El Salvador, Ecuador, Panama, Santo Domingo, Turks & Caicos and Panama.

Session POC: David Field, david.field@dhl.com