

Title: Women in Logistics – Then, Now, and Future

Abstract: Encouraged for both men and women to attend, this is a mixed panel of DOD and Industry Logisticians (women and men) who will offer thoughts on how women have, are, and should lean-in and be leaders. Do women more naturally possess the behaviors we see when we describe a great leader today? We will talk about this question and evolution in leadership from one who manages to one who inspires.

NOTE: This class is designed at the following experience level for this topic – introductory

Organization: Diverse

Website: N/A

Moderator:

Pamela Dorsey. Pam is the Program Manager for Sexual Assault Prevention and Response for Scott Air Force Base. She is considered the subject matter expert and advises the installation commander on issues relating to sexual assault prevention, awareness and response and is the installation primary trainer helping to develop and deploy the “zero tolerance” message for behaviors that contribute to a culture that supports sexual assault. Having served 26 years as a military member, she is a consummate supporter of transformational leadership and cultural change. Her email: Pamela.Dorsey@us.af.mil

Roundtable Participants:

Kathleen Gainey. Kathy is Senior Vice President, Cypress International, with specific expertise in developing government and industry consensus on synergistic partnerships to solve logistics issues with national security significance. She is a retired US Army Lieutenant General, veteran of 35+ years and over 20 years of senior level expertise in leading global supply chain management teams, ensuring outstanding customer satisfaction culminating in assignment as Deputy Commander of U.S. Transportation Command. Background includes successful performance leading diverse teams in key facets of wholesale supply chain management to ensure outstanding customer satisfaction. Her email: Gainey@cypressintl.com

Gina Hubbs. Gina is Vice President, Government and Emergency Services, a division at Universal Logistics Holdings, Inc. she launched in 2010 to provide a single point of contact for the US Government and its affiliates to offer the vast portfolio of service offerings within the Corporation's subsidiaries to deliver streamlined solutions. Under her leadership, her division works with FEMA to operate transportation services and cross-dock operations in support of disaster relief in the Southeast United States. Gina's background includes Account Executive, Cross-dock Operations, and Terminal Manager while at Con-Way Freight, as well as several executive roles including Vice President of Operations and Vice President of Sales since joining Universal in 1994. Her email: GHubbs@goutsi.com

Theresa Lorinser. Theresa is Marketing Director, Industrial Products Marketing, BNSF Railway. She is responsible for price, markets, capacity, and program direction for the military, machinery, food and beverage for the Industrial Products business unit. Theresa's career with BNSF include positions as Manager Sales and Marketing Industrial Products, Senior Manager Customer Support, Equipment Manager and Train Dispatcher. She is active in her community, serving as Chairman of the Board for Northwest YMCA, Ft Worth, and volunteers for Boys and Girls Club. Her email: Theresa.Lorinser@bnsf.com

John Michel. John is Chief Strategy & Innovation Officer and President, MV Global at MV Transportation. He is a speaker, author, business advisor, and widely-recognized expert in culture, social media, strategy & individual and organizational change. A retired Air Force Brigadier General, he sits on the Board of several non-profit organizations serving veterans and is the co-founder of both the Avalon Institute and General Leadership. An accomplished, unconventional leader and proven status quo buster, his award-winning work has been featured in a wide variety of articles and journals, including the Harvard Business Review, Fast Company, CEO Magazine, Huffington Post, National Geographic, Joint Forces Quarterly, and the Washington Post. His latest book, The Art of Positive Leadership, was written while serving as the Commanding General of NATO Air Training Command in Afghanistan. John can be reached on Twitter at @JohnEMichel or by email at michelx4@aol.com.

Ann Rondeau. Ann is President, College of DuPage. She retired from the U.S. Navy as a three-star admiral in 2012 and is the second woman to have achieved this rank. Dr.

Rondeau has extensive leadership experience in significant military and educational roles, to include past president of National Defense University, Deputy Commander of the U.S. Transportation Command, Pentagon Director/Chief of Staff for the U.S. Navy Staff, Commander of the Navy Personnel Development Command in Virginia, Commander of the Naval Service Training Command at Great Lakes, Ill., Pacific Fleet Staff Chief of Staff in Hawaii, Commanding Officer of Naval Support Activity in Tennessee and other staff and commanding responsibilities with policy, support and student service. Her email: rondeau@cod.edu

Session POC: Diana Roach, diana.r.vanwinkel-roach.civ@mail.mil, 618-220-1724, USTRANSCOM